The Word of God for the 29th Sunday in Ordinary Time. 'Cup' and 'baptism'

What precedes this Sunday's gospel is the third prediction of the passion (see Sunday 25). Even after having been told three times that Jesus must suffer and die, James, John, and all the disciples fail to understand Jesus' identity and mission: all they can think about is glory. Hence, Jesus again instructs them about discipleship, this time speaking of 'the cup that I drink' and 'the baptism with which I am baptised.' These are images for his forthcoming suffering and death.

Cup. In the Old Testament the image of the cup is used to describe the suffering and punishment God visits upon the wicked: 'You drank at the Lord's hand the cup of his wrath: Desolation and destruction, famine and sword!' (Isaiah 51:17, 19; also Psalm 11:6; Jeremiah 25:15; Habakkuk 2:16; Ezekiel 23:31-33). The 'cup' that Jesus drinks may infer that Jesus took on himself the punishment intended for human sinfulness. He seems to indicate this when he says that he will 'give his life as a ransom for many' (Mark 10:45). Additionally, at the Last Supper Jesus says of the cup, 'This is my blood of the covenant, which will be shed for many' (14:24) - indicating that the cup, 'shed for many,' is also a cup of suffering. 'Cup' understood as suffering is evident in his prayer in Gethsemane, 'Take this cup away from me' (Mark 14:36). Finally, it was customary for the head of a household to fill the cups of the family and guests at table. So the cup that Jesus obligingly pours out for James and John is the cup of suffering - and each, indeed, dies a martyr's death.

Baptism. In the Old Testament a deluge of water symbolises trouble and suffering (Psalms 18:17-18; 32:6; 69:2-3, 15; 124:4-5; Isaiah 8:7). John the Baptist uses 'baptism' with other images to signify the tribulations of the end time (Matthew 3:11-12). Jesus, too, uses baptism to describe his own anguish and suffering (Luke 12:50). As a symbol of Christ's death, it may refer to the sacrament of baptism by which disciples are baptised into Christ's death (Romans 6:3-4).

SYNOD OF BISHOPS

On Sunday, October 17, dioceses around the world will launch local preparations for the Synod of Bishops, which has the theme: "For a Synodal Church: Communion, Participation and Mission". The Catholic Church in Australia will invite the People of God to make submissions via an online portal that will open on October 17. Those submissions will help the Bishops develop a national report to support the global process leading to an international gathering in 2023. Find out more at:

<http://www.catholic.org.au/synodalchurch>

The Prayer of the Synod: Adsumus Sancte Spiritus

As we embrace this Synodal Process, this prayer invites the Holy Spirit to be at work in us so that we may be a community and a people of grace.

We stand before You, Holy Spirit, as we gather together in Your name.

With You alone to guide us, make Yourself at home in our hearts;

Teach us the way we must go and how we are to pursue it.

We are weak and sinful; do not let us promote disorder.

Do not let ignorance lead us down the wrong path nor partiality influence our actions.

Let us find in You our unity so that we may journey together to eternal life and not stray from the way of truth and what is right.

All this we ask of You, who are at work in every place and time, in the communion of the Father and the Son, forever and ever.

Amen.

MENTAL HEALTH WEEK

Sunday 17th October marks the end of Mental Health Week. It is important that we manage stress and practice self-care in our daily life.

We thank the students of St Joseph's, Nundah for providing our parishioners with hearts of gratitude and mindfulness. Feel free to collect a heart at the back of either church.

The Holy Father's Intentions for October

Intention for evangelisation – Missionary disciples

We pray that every baptised person may be engaged in evangelisation, available to the mission, by being witnesses of a life that has the flavour of the Gospel.

The month of October is dedicated to the Holy Rosary.

Stewardship

"For the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many."

(MARK 10:45)

If you held a mirror up to your life, would it reflect God's love and mercy? If you are struggling with this, try changing your attitude from "I want more" to "thank you God for everything you have given me, I have enough to share". This change in perspective will bring you joy through service to others. Pray daily to become less self-centered and to become more God-centered.

A Vocation View

A VOCATION VIEW: Life's rewards are tied up in the spirit of service. Just as the Son of Man came to give His life, so too are we then called through our profession of faith to serve others. Lord, we pray, 'let your mercy be on us, as we place our trust in You to do you will.'

CAN YOU SPARE 4 HOURS PER WEEK TO HELP PEOPLE IN NEED?

Aspleycare is a Parish based organised Emergency Relief group staffed by volunteers, who serve the community by responding to the needs of people in a Christian, neighbourly and practical way. Aspleycare provides emergency relief to people in need by advising of options available to them, as well as help with material (eg. food parcels) and/or financial aid to meet an immediate need.

Aspleycare is currently in need of volunteers. By offering your time and talents, you can assist and improve the lives of others within the greater community on the northside of Brisbane. There are a variety of roles available ranging from receptionist, interviewer, as well as co-ordination, liaison, planning, fund-raising and financial positions.

Being part of Aspleycare can be extremely rewarding. As well as being part of something that contributes to the lives of others, it can challenge and encourage you in your walk with Jesus. The Green Corner

Ditching Teabags and Starting a Tea Garden

Did you know that most teabags contain plastic? Many people think that teabags are just made from paper and string but most brands have plastic in the bag which prevents it disintegrating when it goes into boiling water. So given that we generally only use them once, perhaps it's worth considering an alternative.

Switching to loose leaf tea from the supermarket or the closest bulk food supply store is one option, but if you happen to have a green thumb or even just an interest in learning, you may like to grow your own tea garden.

There's lots of things you could try, but a few great options to start with include lemon verbena, lemon myrtle, peppermint and rosella. The leaves of the first three and the flower buds (pre-opening) of the rosella are what's used to make tea. Simply add a few leaves/buds to some hot water and let it brew for a while. For a stronger flavour just add more.

Perhaps you could make a start on a tea garden this weekend...
